Fit Gap Session for PAR/Position/Jobcode – In the History Books!

The National Finance Center (NFC) and Unisys hosted the first of seven fit gap sessions during the week of July 23, 2007, at NFC's Client Services Office in Washington, D.C. The session covered Personnel Action Request (PAR)/Position/Jobcodes and participants included all client agencies currently using EmpowHR as well as those with a signed letter of intent to convert. There was a very cooperative and encouraging spirit in the air with large amounts of information exchanged and learning by all involved.

During the discussions, we adopted some of the 9.0 out-of-the-box delivered functionalities and modified several agency specific requirements to be included as "across the board" customizations for all users. However, there are several aspects that we will need to keep customized as they relate directly to the NFC interface. The discussions covered in this session yielded such positive results that we completed the four-day agenda in just two days, and ended in agreement on moving forward.

On behalf of NFC and Unisys, we would like to thank all those who participated and look forward to the remaining sessions being just as successful.

Frequently Asked Questions (Version 1)

Answer: You will note in the fit gap schedule that there is a week between sessions. During this time, Unisys/NFC will prepare a fit

Agency Licensing Responsibilities in Preparation for New 9.0 Functionality

In our last newsletter we indicated that we would provide "Agency Licensing Responsibilities in preparation for new 9.0 Functionality". At this time, we continue to research the 9.0 offering and work with customer agencies on requirements through the fit gap process. Until these efforts yield the specific functionalities that will exist in 9.0, we cannot provide licensing guidance. We will certainly share this information with you at the earliest possible point in the upgrade project.
